WINE ENTHUSIAST MAGAZINE

NARDI

Brunello di Montalcino 2018

95 Points

The nose is autumnal, as if summer's last batch of plums has been dried, while a metallic, slightly melancholic tang of tar, olives and wild herbs portends rainy weather. On the palate, dark fruit, bitter cocoa and stone join persistent tar, maintaining a wistful feel through a long finish.

Danielle Callegari - January 3, 2024

© 2026 Kobrand Corporation, Purchase, NY | www.kobrandwineandspirits.com